

Deaths In Riot Mount

At Least 53 Perish As Irate Morocco Nationalists Strike In Retaliation Move

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—At least 53 persons, mostly Europeans, today were reported killed in Morocco in rioting touched off by France's seizure of five top Algerian rebels.

French and Moroccan armed patrols uncovered more and more burned and mutilated bodies in the city of Meknes where angry Arab nationalists struck yesterday.

Moroccan troops and French Legionnaires mounted guard in the European section of Meknes while the search went on in the native quarters for more bodies.

In addition to yesterday's rioting in the town, French sources said 38 farms, mostly European, in the surrounding countryside were wholly or partly burned by rampaging Moroccans.

The actual cause of the rioting in Meknes appeared to be the accidental shot fired by a Moroccan trooper who wounded himself. The shot enraged demonstrators and the bloodshed was on.

In Tunis, Morocco's Sultan Mohammed V glumly ordered a plane home. He and Tunisian leaders broke off talks interrupted when France seized the Algerian rebels.

Mindful of the ruse France used to capture the leaders of the Algerian rebellion, the Sultan's household made clear he would not travel in a French plane.

The Sultan had come to Tunisia to confer on a purported plan to bring peace to Algeria and weld it into a new union of North Africa.

The French trick which diverted the plan of rebel chiefs to French-run Algiers and waiting French troops instead of their destination in independent Tunis kicked up a storm on both sides of the Mediterranean. The action touched off riots and protest strikes in both Tunisia and Morocco. Arab mobs killed nine persons—eight of them French—in the Moroccan town of Meknes.

French security forces in Algeria braced for reprisals as the Premier Guy Mollet flatly refused Arab appeals to free the five rebel leaders.

An upsurge in rebel activity already was noted in Algeria, where the five were kept under heavy guard. But the insurgents were kept in check by strong French troop detachments.

In Paris, the National Assembly cheered Mollet's exultant recital of the capture of the rebel chiefs. The House—with the exception of the Communists—applauded the Premier's endorsement of action by French civil and military authorities in Algiers.

These other factors emerged from the somewhat confused situation:

1. French sources in Algiers said the captured rebels divulged in great detail all activities of the National Liberation Front headquarters in Cairo. They talked at length of the aid the organization allegedly receives from Egypt.
2. A general protest strike in Tunis virtually closed down the city. Many Europeans vainly sought air transport out of Tunis as word spread that the army had taken over the airport and no airline planes would be allowed to come or go.
3. Strikes and sympathy demonstrations for the captured rebels flared in Casablanca and Rabat, where strong Moroccan police units kept crowds from approaching the French Embassy.

Mollet rejected a top-level Moroccan appeal for release of the five rebel leaders. Moroccan Premier Mohammed Bekkai flew to Paris to protest the seizure and request the liberation of the prisoners but his demands were brushed aside.

India Gives New Suez Proposal

Closely Resembles Recent Resolution; Hint From British

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India set forth today a proposed Suez settlement based on cooperation between the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority and "a users association."

A government spokesman said the plan has been broached to the parties concerned by India's roving ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon during his recent trips to Cairo, London and United Nations headquarters in New York.

The spokesman declined to say whether any country concerned had accepted the Indian plan.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd hinted in London that Britain might accept a compromise settlement of the Suez dispute if the interests of users nations were safeguarded by Egypt.

The Indian proposal closely resembled the recently passed U.N. Security Council resolution. It was based on the convention of 1888 under which the waterway had been operated until Egyptian President Nasser nationalized it July 26.

India proposed the 1888 convention be revised to provide:

1. Maximum tolls to be levied by Egypt.
2. Egyptian responsibility for maintenance and development of the canal in accordance with modern requirements.
3. Egypt to give the U.N. an annual report on her Suez Canal Authority.

Hope for Rain Is Forecast For Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A bit of hope for rain in the east and south portions of Missouri appeared in the forecast today.

A few widely scattered showers and thunderstorms were predicted for the east and south tomorrow. Temperatures will be warmer over most of the state tonight with southerly winds of 20-30 miles an hour.

The weather will turn cooler in the north and west parts tomorrow. The high expected will be in the 60s in the extreme northwest to the lower 80s in the southeast.

An intense and widespread storm has developed over eastern Colorado in the last 24 hours, the Weather Bureau reported.

The storm is reported to be causing high winds over an area from the Rockies to the Missouri Valley. Winds were measured at 30 to 60 miles an hour between the Oklahoma Panhandle and the Dakotas.

Mollet rejected a top-level Moroccan appeal for release of the five rebel leaders. Moroccan Premier Mohammed Bekkai flew to Paris to protest the seizure and request the liberation of the prisoners but his demands were brushed aside.

Anti-Communist Revolution Grips Capital Of Hungary; Soviet Tanks, Jets Fight Rebels

Forceful Reminder Delivered

Polish Premier Says Poland Is Expecting Equality With Soviet

WARSAW (AP)—Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz reminded the Russian's forcefully today Poland's relations with the Soviet Union in the future will be based on full equality. His address to Parliament followed reports that Soviet Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev had backed down in his quarrel with the Poles and apologized.

Responsible sources also reported Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland will be released in a few days if the situation in Poland continues quiet. The informants said the cardinal's release was discussed yesterday by Wladyslaw Gomulka, the new party boss, and a delegation of Catholic Parliament members who expressed general support for Gomulka's policy of independent socialism.

Cyrankiewicz, scheduled to fly to Moscow this week, indicated Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky remains in good standing in the Communist party, despite his ouster from the politburo last week. He asserted, however, that in the future Russian troops in Poland will be restricted exclusively to bases granted by treaty.

Rokossovsky, installed by Stalin in 1949 as Poland's defense minister, has been reported on the verge of ejection from his office under the new leadership headed by the once-purged Gomulka.

Yielding to the Poles, Khrushchev backed down completely from his demands for Moscow-chosen men to dominate the Polish party, and Polish-Soviet relations began to improve, authoritative informants said.

The informants said the surrender came in a telephone call from Khrushchev to Wladyslaw Gomulka, new boss of the Polish Communist party, yesterday afternoon. It was made in the midst of waves of bitter anti-Soviet demonstrations inside Poland.

Thousands of Poles had been demonstrating in three major cities against Russia's attempt to hold off the independence promised by Gomulka. They tore down and trampled Soviet flags and demanded the removal to Siberia of Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, the Moscow-appointed commander of the Polish military forces.

The sources said Soviet troop concentrations in Poland were ordered dispersed after Khrushchev's telephone call and that a Russian naval squadron off Poland's Baltic coast had been withdrawn.

Kirkville Will Try School Bonds Again

KIRKVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A $499,000 school bond issue was defeated by 50 votes yesterday and school board members decided immediately to submit the question to the voters again as soon as possible.

The vote was 2,292 for and 1,223 against. A two-thirds majority was required.

The money would be used to build a campus-type high school on a 35-acre tract already owned by the school board.

TITO MEETS WITH ROMANIANS—President Tito of Yugoslavia, third from left at the table, holds a political conference with Communist Romanian leaders in the "White Palace." Tito's official residence in Belgrade. Official reports described the meeting as aimed at the "normalization" of relations between the parties and the government of the two countries. Informants said the Romanian and Yugoslav talks undoubtedly would include the developments in Warsaw. Romanian leaders sitting at the right of the table include Party Secretary Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej, third from right, and Premier Chivu Stoica, fourth from right. The others are unidentified. Both Are Surprised—

Vivian Warren, George Shelton Get Chamber Courtesy Awards

Mrs. Vivian Warren, wife of Ike L. Warren, was presented the courtesy award for the most courteous woman for the last quarter of the year, and George Shelton, McLaughlin Bros., received the award for the most courteous man.

Since this is a Chamber of Commerce project, and Mrs. Warren is office manager of the Chamber, Emory Bowman, chairman of the courtesy awards committee of the retail merchants division, hesitated in giving the award to her, but he received so many letters and telephone calls from people in town wanting her to receive the recognition that he felt he should give it to her.

It was letters and telephone calls, too that won the award for George Shelton.

Mrs. Warren is also treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, but it is in her work as office manager that she serves her community as a coordinator of many activities and assists in all projects for the betterment of the town. Her job is a big one, meeting people, answering questions, and serving all, particularly the newcomers.

She is active in the Business and Professional Women's Club, and served two years as its president, being elected in 1946. She was the first woman elected to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, which was in 1948, and was awarded a certificate of merit from the Chamber for her outstanding work in the community that year.

She was an active leader in high school and, after graduation, served as a president of the "S" Club one year. She also has served as president of the Missouri Pacific Women's Club and chairman of the Cancer Society, as well as being active in many other civic organizations.

With her husband and her father, R. V. Denny, she resides at 1009 West Third.

No one has ever been more surprised than Vivian to receive the courtesy award. When she was asked to sign her own check, she turned very red and said quickly: "It's hot. Turn on the air conditioner."

It has been Vivian's flashing smile, along with her eagerness to please people, that has made her popular from the time she first started working for downtown business firms when she was just out of school. She has been office manager of the Chamber of Commerce for the past five years.

No one was more pleased over her selection than Jack Faber, executive manager of the chamber, and her co-worker, Clarice Mettler.

George Shelton, too, was surprised when he received the award. (Please turn to page 6, column 5)

He said Missouri farmers are in a state of indecision and must make plans now or "many will be forced to liquidate their foundation herds."

The requests followed recommendations of the State Emergency Drought Committee meeting yesterday in Columbia. The six points:

1. Increase the number of drought disaster counties in Missouri to 93 by adding Carter, Jasper and Shelby.
2. Step up the Bangs disease eradication program.
3. Allot one million dollars at once to pay 80 per cent of the cost of building or renovating about 4,000 farm ponds.
4. Allot $800,000 at once to pay 50 per cent of the cost of seed and fertilizer to plant about 150,000 acres of small grain for pasture, hay or silage.
5. Expand the beef purchase program.
6. Set up a cooperative federal and state plan with $500,000 in federal funds to help pay the cost of shipping hay, roughage and surplus grain.

Donnelly also asked the freight reductions granted other areas be extended to Missouri.

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly last night wired President Eisenhower a six-point recommendation for emergency drought aid for Missouri.

Donnelly urged immediate action to meet what he called a critical situation.

He said Missouri farmers are in a state of indecision and must make plans now or "many will be forced to liquidate their foundation herds."

Students and Workers Defy Government Surrender Order

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—many hundreds of persons were reported killed in an anti-Russian, anti-Communist revolution gripping the Hungarian capital today. Soviet tanks and troops went into action and warplanes waged a fierce battle against the rebels.

Austrian travelers arriving tonight from Budapest said "many hundreds" had died. They reported Communist jet planes joined the Russian tanks and machine-guns to battle students and workers who defied a government ultimatum to surrender.

The travelers said many Hungarian soldiers refused to fight against their countrymen and actually gave the rebels active support by letting ammunition trucks fall into the workers' hands.

Budapest radio announced the rebels defied the latest Hungarian ultimatum to surrender and the battle, which began with peaceful demonstrations last night, roared on into the night.

The ultimatum expired at 6 p.m. (noon EST). It had been extended from 2 p.m. after the rebels had also defied that time limit. The Communist government had promised that rebels who surrendered would be given full amnesty.

When the resistance fighters scorned the second ultimatum the government radio broadcast: "The counter revolutionaries still carrying out murder and robbery can not now expect any mercy. They will not escape the death penalty."

Summary courts-martial had been established to condemn captured rebels.

Direct telephone communication with the city was cut off, but it was evident that casualties in the fighting were mounting by the score. A Westerner who reached Warsaw after traveling from Budapest said 150 persons were reported to have been killed when Russian tanks were brought into fighting outside the Hungarian Parliament building.

Russian tanks by the dozen were reported rolling through the streets and firing on blazing buildings. Budapest radio reported "numerous soldiers, citizens and members of the security forces" were slain in wild, riotous fighting which burgeoned from peaceful demonstrations against Moscow last night. The revolt dwarfed the anti-Russian demonstrations in satellite Poland.

indicating the fighting still was raging into this afternoon in the city of more than a million the new government of Premier Imre Nagy extended an ultimatum zero hour for surrender of the rebels.

In apparent gesture of appeasement to the rebels, Communist leaders had removed Andras Hegedus as premier and installed Nagy, who was purged in 1955. All through the night students, workers, off-duty soldiers and others shouted for Nagy as premier and demanded the expulsion of Soviet troops from Hungary. But when the Communist government gave in to the demands for Nagy, apparently the rebels were not to be appeased without some indication the Russians would get out.

The cry "Russkies go home" mingled with gun fire near a statue of Stalin that young workers tried to topple.

Today's accounts of the fighting came from the official Budapest radio and from travelers who reached the Austrian frontier. Direct telephonic communication with Budapest was cut off after Andre Marton, AP correspondent there, gave a detailed account of the early hours of the uprisings.

The rebellion was far more violent than that in Poland, where emphasis was on independence of the Communist party from Kremlin domination.

Ike to Make Six Speeches Next Week

Talks Will Be in 3 Southern States; To Keep in Touch

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House today announced plans for six campaign speeches by President Eisenhower next week, including talks in three of the four Southern states he carried in 1952.

The President will make three separate trips. They will take him into Florida, Virginia, Texas, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, emphasized that the President will return to Washington at the end of each day.

The President will do that, Hagerty said, primarily to keep in close touch with the "fast breaking developments in the (Soviet) satellite nations." That was a reference to the unrest in such countries as Poland and Hungary.

Here is Eisenhower's campaign schedule for next week:

MONDAY—He will leave Washington at 8:40 a.m. and fly to Miami, Fla., speaking at International Airport there at noon.

He then will fly on to Jacksonville, Fla., arriving there at 2:03 p.m. for a talk at Imeson Airfield.

The next stop will be Byrd Field at Richmond, Va., for an airport address about 4:40 p.m. Then he will return to Washington.

WEDNESDAY—He will leave Washington at 8:30 a.m. and arrive at Love Field in Dallas, Tex., at 12:30 p.m. for an address at the airport.

Then he will fly on to Oklahoma City for a talk at Will Rogers Field there at about 2:25 p.m. then return to Washington.

THURSDAY—Eisenhower will make a major nationwide address on television and radio—NBC—from Convention Hall in Philadelphia at 9:30 p.m. EST. He will travel to Philadelphia by train from Washington, leaving the capital at 6:30 p.m.

There have been reports the President will conclude his campaign on election eve, Nov. 5, with a major address in Boston.

Construction to Start On New Building For Metropolitan

In preparation for this a house on the site at 210 West Seventh Street, is being razed this week.

William Jackson, manager of the Metropolitan, anticipates the new building will be ready for occupancy by March 1. Their present offices are in the Third National Bank building.

The new Metropolitan building will be 44x66 feet, brick and tile wall, concrete with vinyl tile flooring, air conditioned, front of buff brick, and other details in the modern manner, and by specifications approved by the Metropolitan. There will be parking space in the rear.

Square dancing is rapidly becoming the No. 1 American pastime. It appeals to both young and old. For the youngsters it is an opportunity to engage in clean wholesome entertainment and to see young America in action, and really enjoying it, drop in at Horace Mann School some Wednesday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock where Damon Hieronymus is engaged in teaching some 300 fifth, sixth and seventh graders, the fundamentals of square dancing. Perhaps their bows to their partners are not as graceful as the more experienced square dancers but when they whoop and holler as they do a grand right and left the onlookers really enjoy their fun and confusion.

At the next stage, the high school students have graduated to the more intricate formations and take the greatest delight in forming exhibition squares whose beautiful costumes and wonderful displays of rhythm and grace make them prime attractions before various church and civic groups.

The adult classes, which are formed each season, cover all ages. The Sedalia Square Dance Association which sponsors these classes would like to have all interested to attend the festival to be held Saturday Oct. 27, at the Smith-Cotton cafeteria from 7 to 11.

Humphrey Says Low Incomes Had Bigger Cut

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey says persons with incomes below $5,000 received a 15 per cent income tax cut under the Republican administration, compared to 11 per cent for people with incomes over $25,000.

Humphrey told a GOP dinner last night that corporations have been taxed "7 billion dollars more than they would have been taxed under the Democratic laws in effect when we assumed office."

He described as "not true" what he termed Democratic charges that 91 cents out of every tax-cut dollar went to corporations and upper income families under the Eisenhower administration.

There has been "a perfectly remarkable stabilization in the cost of living" under the present administration, he declared.

Humphrey, the third Eisenhower Cabinet member to visit Missouri for campaign talks in the past two weeks, said the President has run up a perfect "promise and performance box score" in the "three major areas" of national defense, the economy and general welfare.

He described Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, as "one who has allowed himself to be made almost completely over by politicians between 1952 and 1956."

Stevenson, he said, has "gone directly from talking over the people's heads to underestimating the people's intelligence."

Hard Battle Has Developed Between Fuels

NEW YORK (AP)—With a smaller market for home heater units this year, competition between the various kinds of fuel grows keener today. So does the race between hot water, hot air and various radiation devices.

Fuel oil and natural gas are fighting harder for first place. Coal is trying for a comeback. Electricity is making an all-out effort to capture more of the heating market.

For the householder the outlook—given normal winter weather—is for adequate supplies in most sections, but with fuel oil prices a little higher and coal prices tending that way because of wage increases at the mines.

Some burner makers report sales of new equipment slowing down this year—blaming the slower pace of home building. Others claim higher sales this year, either through relative price changes among the fuels or through advances in equipment performances. New types that can be switched from heating to cooling as the seasons change are also racking up sales gains in both the home and the apartment house fields.

The Better Heating - Cooling Council reports fluid heating and cooling equipment sales this year will reach 353 million dollars, a gain of 10 per cent over a year ago. Hot water heating lost favor shortly after World War II, but the council says it's coming back now, thanks to new radiators or convectors that both heat and cool.

The race between the fuel types gets closer. Oilmen say they should sell about 10 per cent more fuel oil this year than last—a rate of gain that has been fairly steady since the war.

The American Gas Assn. claims that 22 million American families are warmed by gas in their homes and apartments. A little more than half of these use gas space heaters, floor or wall furnaces.

The National Electrical Manufacturers Assn. reports gains in electrical heater sales. For one thing, it says that 112 rural electrification cooperatives now serve 12,074 electrically heated farm homes.

The Bituminous Coal Institute, plugging hard for a comeback, is using its 12 regional offices to demonstrate "modern, labor-free automatic burning equipment."

Says Ike Refused To Ask Flood Control Projects for State

RICHMOND, Mo. (AP)—Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) said today that President Eisenhower has repeatedly refused to request adequate appropriations for flood control projects in western Missouri.

"Missouri has consistently been plagued with the problem of either too much or too little water," the senator said in a speech prepared for Ray County Democratic Committee luncheon meeting.

"Thanks to a Democratic controlled 84th Congress," he said, "we were able during this last session to secure funds to resume construction of the all-important Tuttle Creek project."

"It was this same Democratic congress which last year appropriated $3,850,000 for the construction of vitally needed agricultural levees along the Missouri River."

Hennings said that since the devastating floods of 1951, Missouri has suffered from one of the most destructive droughts in its history but during this time "we have repeatedly witnessed inaction on the part of the Republican administration despite our repeated efforts to secure help."

Man Must Pay Weekly Visit, $10 a Month To Victim of Auto

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Cass Thorpe must visit Jodie Loftis every week for two years and pay him $10 a month, by order of the court.

"I pray for the wisdom of Solomon in trying to decide a case like this," said Circuit Judge Theodore McMillan.

Loftis, 62, lost his right foot when he was hit by a car driven by Thorpe last Dec. 8. Thorpe, 24, pleaded guilty to felonious wounding and leaving the scene of an accident. Officers testified Thorpe was drunk.

Judge McMillan found these extenuating circumstances in putting Thorpe on probation for two years: His wife is a semi-invalid and requires expensive medical care. He also supports his mother-in-law. He has never been in trouble before.

The judge said he will review Thorpe's income every three months to determine if the payments to Loftis can be increased. Thorpe now makes $59.58 a week.

Bouquet Is Sent To Democrat Office

Mrs. T. H. Dozier, 1701 South Vermont, sent to the Democratic Capital office Saturday, a bouquet of beautiful dahlias of assorted colors, some very large.

The Ohio River starts at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers at Pittsburgh and ends at Cairo, where it joins the Mississippi, a distance of 961 miles.

HAPPY PAY-OFF — Roy Kimball, enthusiastic 4-H Club member of Caspar, Wyo., has a happy grin as he bids farewell to the high-quality Hereford steer he raised and sold for a record price. The average price for 4-H beef at the Central Wyoming Fair was $30.31 per hundredweight. Roy's 916-pound steer brought $42.75 when bought by Caspar's Hotel Henning. So, with a deduction for shrinkage, the 16-year-old youngster pocketed a check for $372.

Never before in history has anything

built by man traveled so far in so short a time

—by land or sea!

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah... it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

We wanted them to prove to you—in action—the stamina and performance we had built into them. No words of ours could speak with equal conviction.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

We feel that by their deeds, you shall know the '57 Ford cars. Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car—buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

University Dean Speaks To Sorosis

"Developments of the University of Missouri School of Medicine and University Hospitals" was the subject on which Dr. Roscoe L. Pullen, dean of the School of Medicine, University of Missouri, Columbia, spoke Monday afternoon at Sorosis.

Dr. Pullen stated he was always amused when people referred to expansion of the Missouri University School of Medicine as the Missouri University new School of Medicine, because, he pointed out, the Missouri School of Medicine is the oldest medical school west of the Mississippi, it is 107 years old. Among its graduates have been some of the most famous doctors and in telling of them he said that two of the greatest brain specialists were from the Missouri University Medical School, one of them being the late Dr. Walter Dandy, who was from Sedalia.

The University of Missouri Medical School has previously offered only a two-year medical program but that has now been extended to the full four years, he said, and he showed pictures of the new buildings which include the new University Hospital, Medical Science Building and the Nurses Dormitory. This with the utilization of the existing facilities in Parker and Noyes Hospital and the Student Health Service Building, will provide the latest diagnostic and therapeutic facilities, he said.

Dr. Pullen also showed pictures of the interior of some of the buildings and stated that this medical school had a splendid lot of teaching material. The Medical School moved into the new buildings in September and this not only gives the complete medical course but gives and opportunity to offer the course to a great many more medical students. He stated, too, that the nurses dormitory is completely full and an entire course in nurses training is offered.

Dr. Pullen stated that the doctors in the state had been very cooperative in sending them patients but he went on to say that these patients are always under the care of a licensed physician and registered nurses and not teaching students. They are not being used for experiments.

The very newest equipment and ideas are available at the medical school, Dr. Pullen said, and in addition to the various other types of patients he told of the crippled children and what is being done for them.

There are many post graduate courses being given to people in the medical field over the state, Dr. Pullen said, and the school is doing a big job in training practitioners for the State of Missouri. The gifts and the grants, he said, to the school of medicine, now exceeds $1,000,000.

Dr. Pullen was introduced by Miss Kathryn Spangler, current topics chairman.

Mrs. Harold Dean, president, presided over the meeting.

The speaker next week will be Mrs. Ida Lee Maier, secretary to the City Council, Kansas City, who will take for her subject, "Twenty-five Years in the Middle." She will be introduced by Mrs. William B. Rich, Art and Drama chairman. There will be a luncheon honoring Mrs. Maier preceding the program.

Red Officials Refuse To Discuss Russian, US Governments

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three Russian embassy officials refused to be drawn into a debate on the relative merits of the Russian and United States governments while visiting an economics class at Washington University yesterday.

Vladimir K. Lobachev, second secretary of the embassy in Washington, was asked by one student for his opinion on the American economic system.

"Ah, that question is too general," he replied. "I would need more than 10 minutes to answer it."

"We came here not for making argument," said Sergei R. Striganov, counselor of the embassy.

What do they think of the political situation in America?

"That's your problem—not ours," Striganov said.

Alexander T. Oustinov, first secretary of the embassy, frowned when he heard one student speak of Russia as "a totalitarian state."

Oustinov said the Russian people elected representatives to their legislative bodies by "secret ballot" and that the only party, the Communist, expresses the ideas and wishes "of all the Russian people."

Hocker Says $60 Not Enough Pension

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lon Hocker, Republican candidate for governor, says $60 a month is not enough for a person receiving old age assistance.

In a television appearance last night, Hocker said he would study state finances to see how to increase the payments without boosting taxes too much.

As for the state mental hospitals, Hocker said, "What we need is to spend less funds on bricks and mortar for new buildings and more on treatment."

"Here in Missouri we have a director of the state hospital division with a budget of 33 million dollars who has neither experience in hospital administration or budget direction," he said.

Coffman and Lyle of Versailles were called and rushed the child to a Columbia Hospital where surgery was performed. The child is still in a critical condition.

VERSAILLES, Mo., (AP)—Do parents have to send a child to public school where extraordinary dangers exist on the playgrounds? Is such a safety facility as a storm cave also a dangerous thing if the opening is not covered to protect playing youngsters?

Decisions on those questions should come from the Morgan County Circuit Court soon in the case of the Eldon high school teacher, William Cheney, who has kept his daughter, Stephanie, at home.

The Morgan County School board said that was a violation of Missouri's compulsory school attendance laws. Cheney said the school grounds were dangerous.

Yesterday, the Cheneys were arrested and charged with refusing to send Stephanie to school. They made $500 bond each and the case was docketed for the juvenile court. It will be heard whenever Circuit Judge Claude E. Curtis can find time to call it up.

Meanwhile, Stephanie is staying home and being taught by her mother, a former school teacher.

Flower's Has 'Fair Lady' Style Show

"Fair Lady" was the theme of the first style show presented in the new fashion room at Flower's Tuesday afternoon which featured six of Sedalia's lovely queens.

The first was Miss Linda Moberg, Archives Queen, who wore an aqua formal of taffeta with deep hemline of ruffled net.

Next was Miss Tula Van Dyne, Smith-Cotton Activity Queen, whose bouffant gown was of red net shot with silver.

Then came Miss Marjory Cummins, Oil Progress Queen, who wore a white brocade sheath dress with jacket designed to give the empire waistline effect. With it she wore a squirrel cape and white hat.

Miss Mary Lou Mitchell, Missouri's Wool Queen, changed off to cotton for the style show. Her dress was of blue cotton lace with wide sash which tied in a bow in the back with long streamer almost to the skirt hem. The fitted waist with high neckline was a surprise, it was a jacket which buttoned in the back.

The Sedalia Queen Candidate to the American Royal, Miss Emilie Dick, who won over 24 other girls, wore a period dress of rose taffeta and net.

Mrs. William Dugan, who won over more than 30 contestants from nine states in a radio sports queen contest, wore a gown of deep blue with velvet bodice and net flounces.

And so the girls, who through their beauty and charm, and even in one case, also skill, the wool queen, have won the coveted title of queen, were real pictures in their party dresses for fair ladies.

But all of the fair ladies do not hold the title queen, except, of course, in their own households, yet there was still plenty of beauty and charm among the young matrons who modeled the exquisite clothes for parties of all kinds.

There was Mrs. William Brown, who modeled first a delicate chiffon formal with wide American Beauty satin sash with a coat matching the sash. Next she wore a sapphire blue sheen styled with high empire waistline. Her tiny hat of the same material with pink Fair Lady rose. And last a gold sheath dress of lame featuring the full back panel.

Mrs. Tom Wilson modeled a dress of black chiffon and jersey, with low V-shaped back and full skirt. The crown of her small black hat was encircled with pink roses and she wore a muskrat cape. Her second gown was a rose material with long torso style and flared flounce. A velvet rose of the same shade covered her chignon. The last dress modeled by Mrs. Wilson was a red harem drape taffeta, a first copy of a Paris import.

Mrs. Cline Cain modeled a black crepe with a Fair Lady raised waistline, the skirt draped softly on one side. With it she wore a satin cut back hat. She also modeled a French type embroidered net, with circular cut skirt underneath which was a green taffeta gathered skirt of tiered ruffles. Stunning indeed was the Spanish red lace gown with sequins embroidered under the lace. Of sheath style it had a wide sash. With it she wore a ranch mink cape.

Mrs. William Gibson modeled first a black lace dress designed with tiered skirt with jet embroidered scallops. She wore the fashionable chop sticks in her hair. Her second was a faile costume with cropped jacket. When the jacket was removed it was a striking cocktail dress. Her hat of velvet had softly rippled brim with ostrich feather trim. Last she modeled a kelly green taffeta formal with tiny pleats to form the full skirt.

Mrs. Charles Thompson was lovely in a black lame gown and with a red rose capping her chignon. Next she modeled a black crepe cocktail sheath with which she wore a fur of new mink lace made of mink tails. The last gown modeled by Mrs. Thompson was a red satin sheath formal which was also a first copy of a Paris original. With it she wore a mink clutch.

The narrator for the fashion show was Mrs. Florence Austin.

Drafts Appeal On Injunction For NAACP

READING, Pa. (AP)—Peace, prosperity and progress? Darlington Hoopes, Socialist party presidential candidate, doesn't believe the United States has attained that happy status.

Hoopes, a 60-year-old Reading attorney, said today "It is false to claim" that America has prosperity "when poverty continues to grow amidst the plenty."

The rich, he said, are getting richer.

Hoopes was the Socialist vice-presidential candidate when Norman Thomas headed the party's national ticket in 1944 and 1948. When Thomas refused to try for the presidency for the seventh time in 1952 Hoopes got the nod. He polled 21,000 votes.

"The issue that we are stressing the most is the continuance of poverty amidst plenty in the United States," he said in an interview.

"The U.S. census figures show that in 1954 the poorest 20 per cent of the people received less than 5 per cent of the total income. If you study that a little it means that 34 million persons, including 10 million children, have average family incomes of $1,313 or $25.25 per week, before taxes.

"When you go just a little further and find that 14 million persons, including 12½ million children, live in families with average weekly income of less than $12 you can't help wondering how they exist."

The Socialist party would wipe out what Hoopes called "unearned property income" — rents, interest, dividends and capital gains.

"The only way you are going to stop this unfair distribution of income and end poverty amidst plenty is for the people collectively to take over the businesses and industries and run them democratically for the purpose of providing goods and services for the people rather than making profits for the rich owners," Hoopes declared.

"In all cases it will be public ownership and democratic management to produce for the public welfare instead of for rich profit of the rich owners."

"This is socialism," Hoopes contended, "and differs from communism as day does from night."

On the issue of "peace" Hoopes criticized the Republican argument that lack of actual military combat signifies the world is at peace.

"This is absurd," he said. "The

Students Are Selected To Take Scholarship Test

By JOAN IMAN

The following students have been selected to take the National Merit Scholarship Test free of charge. This honor goes to the upper five per cent of the Senior Class. They are: Patty Lane, Irene Shipley, Wayne Sievers, Danny Ruffin, Barbara Freund, Linda Momborg, Vernon Ditton, Barbara Mabry, Charles Ernest, Mary Ruth Mittlehouser and Judy Brown. This test will be given on Oct. 24.

The annual PTA membership drive began Oct. 15. It will close this coming Friday. The class that enrolls the greatest percentage of members will be given a party next March. The money that they make is used to buy books and supplies and to furnish lunches for needy students.

Linda Momborg has been elected Archives Queen of 1957. She, with her princesses, Mary Ruth Mittlehouser and Barbara Freund, will reign over the annual Archives Christmas Ball to be held in the Smith-Cotton cafeteria on Friday, November 30.

The Junior class is sponsoring the sale of student identification cards. These cards can be purchased from a Junior class representative with the approval of the student's parents. These cards entitle the bearer, upon presentation at the Fox Theatre box office each time he attends the movie, to get in for a student fee. These cards are valid for one year beginning Nov. 1 and are not transferable.

Future Teachers held a short meeting after school Friday in the way to peace is worldwide elimination of economic suffering. The way to defeat communism is to raise the living standard of the poor and oppressed in Asia, Eastern Europe, Africa and Latin America."

The Socialist party isn't spending a lot of money to advertise its program. It is on the presidential ballot in only about 10 states — the biggest, Wisconsin — and Hoopes said, "I won't spend more than the $150 it cost me in the 1952 campaign."

Hoopes, associated in his law office with his eldest son Darlington Jr., said he believes that "within the next 10 years there will be a political realignment in the United States."

He said that "socially minded liberals and labor will line up on the one side against the conservatives who are for the present system and against every kind of social reform that we support."

Senior High library, to discuss programs for future meetings.

The annual Snake Dance and Bonfire will be held Thursday at 7 and will begin at the high school. After the dance, the bonfire will be in the parking lot back of the school. There will be a pep rally after the fire at the Fox Theater, sponsored by the Student Council. The tickets for this rally are now on sale.

Charges Are Dropped Against Man Who Bar Hopped by Plane

NEW YORK (AP) — A 20-year-old man who went bar hopping in New York by plane was freed of a grand larceny charge yesterday by the aircraft's owners.

Thomas Fitzpatrick of Emerson, N.J., is still in trouble, however, with city fathers who looked askance at his landing the plane at 191st St. and St. Nicholas Ave.

Magistrate Francis X. O'Brien dismissed the larceny charge after being told that the airplane's owners refused to sign a complaint against the man.

Fitzpatrick landed on the busy street near a tavern on a recent Sunday morning. He told police he had attended a bachelor party in Manhattan earlier, had a few drinks, then drove to Teterboro (N. J.) airport and "borrowed" the plane.

He was continued in $1,000 bail pending a hearing in Municipal court Oct. 30 on violation of city regulations.

Hopewell Homemakers Plan Wiener Roast

The Hopewell Homemakers met Oct. 18. A dress revue was presented by the clothing leader, Mrs. Albert Anderson.

The lesson on life insurance and a quiz game were led by Mrs. Anderson.

The secretary read a thank you note from Mercy Hospital for the diapers.

Five members answered roll call with "What I Like Most About This Month."

A wiener roast was planned for Nov. 3 at the Ben Townsend home. Hostess months were drawn also.

The next meeting will be Nov. 8 at the home of Mrs. Johnathon Walter with a program on Public Affairs by Mrs. Ben Townsend.

Estes Says GOP Creates 'Illusion'

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today the administration's economic policies have created an "illusion of prosperity" that has served only to "fatten the treasuries of the giant financial empires while the American people have been lagging behind."

Kefauver struck out at what he called Republican "stop-gap election eve prosperity" as he came to this auto manufacturing center for a full day of campaigning in the Detroit area.

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate's chartered plane arrived here early today from the Corn Belt, where in speeches yesterday at Waterloo and Mason City, Iowa, he drew cheers with attacks on what he called Republican "election bait" farm promises.

In a speech prepared for delivery before a luncheon audience of Detroit business and professional men, he assailed what he said were "misleading generalities" by GOP orators on the nation's economy.

He said Detroit had a first-hand reminder of the "illusion of GOP prosperity" in the idle Studebaker-Packard plant.

He charged Secretary of Defense Wilson with driving the company "to the wall" by a "narrow base procurement policy" of concentrating government defense purchases in the hands of a relatively few manufacturers.

"On the verge of collapse with 23,000 workers, 4,000 dealers and 100,000 shareholders," he asserted "Wilson has now cooked up a deal with Curtiss Wright to tide it over until after election day."

He called this "a maneuver not unlike that of Dick Nixon, who went to the Midwest and returned hurriedly to Washington with word that hog prices had to be kept at $15 a hundred until after election." Kefauver said the family pocket-book, not corporate profits, is the true index of economic well-being. But as auto workers wages have risen 14 per cent since 1952, General Motors profits have gone up 113 per cent, he asserted.

Lt. Col. Harry Robb

Lt. Col. Robb Will Evaluate Local CAP Unit

Lt. Col. Harry W. Robb, base commander at Whiteman AFB, will appear on KDRO-TV Wednesday, Oct. 24, to discuss and evaluate Sedalia Squadron of Civil Air Patrol with Joe Ream of that organization. Col. Robb is an authority on CAP and was the project officer for the Minnesota Wing last June when 250 of its members attended an eight day exercise and visit to Whiteman.

Col. Robb came to Whiteman from Pinecastle AFB, Fla., to take command of the 486th Bomb Squadron, and served as its commander for a year. He was praised highly by Col. A. J. Beck, wing commander at Whiteman, for outstanding job when he left the squadron to take over as second in command of the air base group. He was moved to base commander in August.

Burning Of The Leaves

The leaf-burning season is here in a moderate sort of way. The real shower of dead foliage is yet to come. Yet because of extreme dryness many residents are raking early, intending to keep this up intermittently as the leaves fall for the balance of the season. In a measure this is good protection against possibility of fire around and leading up to a dwelling. Only a spark is necessary to set on fire a yard full of leaves.

Burning leaves or trash, particularly this fall, is a dangerous undertaking and should be done only under constant supervision. Even a smoldering fire, dead to all appearances, may harbor a spark which wind-blown can spread fire to a neighbor's yard or dwelling.

Observation about town reveals many people continue to burn leaves on street or alley asphalt paving despite warnings by the city not to do so. Excessive heat causes asphalt to deteriorate allowing water to seep through a burned area causing pavement to break up under traffic, according to City Engineer E. V. Bishop. Persistence in ignoring this warning will mean a charge back of street damage to property owners. It's a lot cheaper to buy or build a trash burner than pay for street repairs.

One of the most perplexing contradictions of current times in Sedalia is the griping about paying for street paving and then to see the same individuals set out to destroy a good job by burning leaves on the asphalt. People are not only funny, they're crazy when they do this.

A street is paved to last a long time, but it won't under such conditions as being used for leaf-burning.

Some persons complain they haven't any place to burn leaves and they are not going to ruin their back yard lawn by doing so. They could have the leaves hauled away but that, too, costs money. Still it's cheaper than ruining a pavement.

Maybe you don't have a place in your yard to burn leaves safely. Then perhaps a neighbor on either side or a door or two away surely must have a leaf burning area. How about a little neighborly cooperation in this respect? How about the neighborhood getting together for a safe and sane leaf-burning festival? It used to be done in the early days of Sedalia when the children and adults alike would take part in such a friendly joint enterprise after dark.

If you and the kids can break yourself away from the television long enough to promote a leaf-burning party with your neighbors, each may learn, also, that they guy next door is a pretty good fellow to become acquainted with.

The World Today--

Basic Questions in H-Bomb Argument

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several basic questions are involved in the campaign debate between Adlai Stevenson and President Eisenhower over whether this country should take some new step toward stopping H-bomb tests.

Stevenson has sought to make a campaign issue of it. Is it? Only a handful of government people and scientists know enough about this highly secret field to form an intelligent opinion on whether the tests should end. The scientists disagree. The rest of the voters can only wonder who's right.

The argument between Stevenson and Eisenhower comes down to two related questions:

1. Stevenson says continued tests will do desperate damage to mankind from the radioactive fallout. Eisenhower says this is wrong. He quotes the National Academy of Sciences as saying mankind will not be damaged at the present rate of tests.

2. Stevenson says this country wouldn't lose any advantage to Russia by stopping the tests and then resuming them if it found out the Russians were continuing theirs. Eisenhower says this is wrong too.

Eisenhower refuses to halt the tests until there is not only agreement with Russia to do the same but also foolproof safeguards — by inspection teams.

Stevenson has never said in unmistakable language exactly what he had in mind. At first he seemed to be saying this country should stop its tests without an agreement with Russia to do the same.

Later he seemed to indicate he thought such agreement would be needed. Last night he appeared to say this country should stop its tests without waiting for agreement on inspection teams.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO Saturday night in the Ambassador Room at Hotel Bothwell the Pettis County Medical Society had a banquet, at which time Dr. Herbert J. Renkel, Oklahoma City, was the principal speaker.

1931 The Rev. Lawrence Orr, Lincoln, Mo., was killed and four injured in a collision in a highway accident near Springfield, Ill.

1931 Mrs. Emil Abele and son, "Billy," were making a visit with relatives in Kansas City.

1931 Frank Twenter purchased the F. Taylor Cain farm of 140 acres three miles north of Sedalia that was sold at auction.

FORTY YEARS AGO Mr. and Mrs. George Broyles and twin sons, Ben and Bob, Colorado Springs, Colo., former Pettis Countians, were here visiting relatives.

1916 John W. Palmer left for a visit to various points in Hickory and Benton Counties to deliver political addresses.

1916 H. B. Shain, circuit judge, G. W. Barnett and Judge E. W. Couey delivered addresses at a largely-attended meeting of Democrats at Dresden.

1916 Judge S. C. Fuller left for Excelsior Springs, where he was summoned through a message reporting his wife sojourning there was not so well.

"The hard scientific fact," he said, "seems to be that we can safely stop hydrogen explosions without inspection because if Russia or anyone else should violate an agreement and explode a big bomb we would immediately detect it."

Would we "immediately" detect it? Eisenhower says tests of very large weapons probably could be detected but it is impossible to be sure except in the case of the very largest weapons.

Stevenson says in effect: The United States has an enormous supply of nuclear weapons. What is to be lost by stopping the tests if this country goes right on with research and preparations for resuming the tests if Russia should violate an agreement to stop her tests?

Eisenhower's reply: Even if this country continued its research — after suspending tests — it could suffer serious damage if then it found out the Russians had set off another test explosion of their own.

Dr. Jordan Says--

Still No Satisfactory Vaccine For Influenza

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Many diseases caused by viruses (measles is a good example) leave a life-long immunity. This is not the case for influenza or the "flu," probably because viruses attacking the upper breathing passages may not penetrate into the blood enough to stimulate the body to build a lasting resistance.

For this, and other reasons, the development of an effective vaccine against influenza has proved exceedingly difficult. To complicate matters further, there are several strains of virus causing influenza; while one strain causes an outbreak one year, it may be an entirely different one which gives trouble the next.

Furthermore, the "flu" simply disappears for a time and no one knows what becomes of the virus in between outbreaks. This is commonly spoken of as going "underground."

Several years ago, high hopes were held for a vaccine against influenza. Favorable results with such a vaccine in an epidemic in 1943 were dashed in 1947, when the vaccine failed! Nevertheless, there are some who feel that present vaccines offer a good chance of preventing the disease. Certainly there is a lot of research going on in this field.

Many still remember the terrible "flu" epidemic of 1917-18, which was the greatest epidemic killer of all time. During that period, more people in the United States alone died from influenza, or its complications, than were killed in the World War then raging. When, if ever, we shall have another epidemic of that magnitude no one can say certainly; if it should come, we must be

He said it requires a year or more to organize and carry out such tests as those made at U.S. proving grounds in the Pacific Ocean. He also has said that research without tests is a waste of time and money.

Eisenhower says this country right now has a "superiority" in nuclear weapons and could lose its lead by suspending tests without absolute certainty the Russians weren't bent on developing their own weapons further.

Eisenhower says continuing the tests has two important beneficial results:

(1) Reducing the radioactive fall-out of the weapons and making easier therefore to concentrate them on military targets and (2) by developing weapons for defense against attack.

In short: Stevenson argues some one has to take the lead in ending the tests and it should be the United States. Eisenhower says this country has made all kinds of proposals for disarming but Russia won't agree on an inspection-safeguard system.

Anyone who is stricken with this disease should immediately go to bed and stay there until the fever has been gone for several days. In the presence of a bad epidemic, this precautionary measure is exceedingly important since those who get out of bed too soon may come down with pneumonia or some other complication.

This is what happened in the 1917-18 epidemic, when whole families were hit almost simultaneously. Often the one best able to move around had to get up to wait on the others and then died soon after from pneumonia. Influenza has, on the whole, been less serious and less fatal than that great epidemic. Since then, the discovery of penicillin and other antibiotics has brought a measure of safety. These do not affect influenza itself, but may be life-saving in the treatment of pneumonia following influenza, or some of the other complications.

She made 900 points out of a possible 1,000 ranking above 47 young men from 15 universities and colleges.

The University of Wisconsin won the team award with 2,632 of a possible 3,000 points. Penn State was second and Ohio State, third. It was Wisconsin's second victory in the annual contest.

Dale Pasley, Osceola, Mo., a University of Missouri entry, won first in beef judging with 183 of a possible 200 points.

The Value of a Vote--

U. S. History Records Many Elections By Close Margin

by Esther Van Wagoner Tuffy of Our Washington Bureau

Washington—A lot of evidence has been amassed to convince the voter of the importance of one vote.

On November 6, 105 million Americans will be eligible to vote. In the 1952 Presidential election a record vote of 61,559,919 was recorded from a possible 98 million citizens who could have voted.

Some of the historical examples of "one vote" decisions:

In 1876, a one vote margin in the electoral college won the election for President Rutherford Hayes over Samuel Tilden.

In 1916, less than one vote per precinct in California lost the presidential election for Charles Hughes to Woodrow Wilson.

In 1948, Ohio and California were lost to Thomas E. Dewey over Harry Truman by a margin close to one vote per precinct.

Other examples can be cited in close gubernatorial elections:

In 1954, New York Republicans lost the Governorship by only a fraction more than one vote per precinct.

In 1950 Michigan Democrats won the battle for the Governorship by only one vote in every third precinct.

In 1839, the Massachusetts Governorship was decided in favor of the Democrats by one vote.

There have been some close elections for the Senate, also. In 1954, Ohio Republican George Bender won the seat of the late Robert Taft by just about one vote in every 4 polling places. In 1944, a Missouri Republican won a Senate seat by less than 1 vote per every two precincts. Also in 1944, Ohio Senator Robert Taft won re-election by only two votes per precinct. The same year, in Pennsylvania, the incumbent Republican lost to a Democrat by less than three votes per precinct.

More recent example of a close Congressional election happened in Maine. Last month, Republican Robert Hale was returned to the House by only 29 votes out of 116,027 cast.

Maybe the most amusing (and yet not amusing) example of lethargy in voting happened in 1953 in University Park, Maryland, where Walter Jeffers elected himself to the Town Council by casting the only vote he got.

Ruth Millett Says--

It Takes Help From All To Create a Happy Family

What makes a happy family?

First of all you must have a husband and wife who love each other enough to stand by each other when the going is rough. They must also appreciate each other and all they have when the going is smooth.

Then you need children who are loved for themselves alone and not just as a projection of their parents' pride and ambitions.

Then you have to add companionship, with the whole family interested in each other and, part of the time, interested in doing things together.

You have to have cooperation, too. A family in which each member is selfishly pulling for himself is never a happy family.

You need family jokes and family traditions. You need good-natured kidding, the kind that brings grins and not the kind that causes hurt feelings.

You need laughter — lots of laughter. Only a family that knows how to laugh at mishaps and follies can stay happy for very long.

You need sentiment, too. Snapshots must be treasured, birthdays and holidays properly celebrated in a way that creates memories.

You need kindness — lots of it inside the home and kindness that goes outside it.

And you need religion for comfort and warmth and hope and faith in things to come.

It takes a lot to make a happy family, contributions from every single member.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

People like to be self-sufficient. They do not want to be beholden to others for favors or for benevolence beyond the normal give and take of neighborliness.

However, everyone reaches the point beyond which his own ability or strength will carry him. Even the drowning man would like to swim to safety without help, but when his endurance has been reached he gladly accepts the help of others.

The hungry person may be too proud to beg, and the lonely soul may not wish to accept "just any friendship." However, everyone reaches points of frustration or soul suffering when he cannot face the future all by himself.

Most people turn to God when hardship weighs so heavily that human strength is not enough. They pray to the Heavenly Father for additional strength and comfort. Courage comes from the outside force.

No parent turns away from his child in a moment of need. Although a child has been thankless in the past a parent will give all that he has to assist his son or daughter.

Likewise God never refuses help to the human soul who turns to Him with problems too serious for human handling. God may not answer prayer in the ways we understand, but He does change circumstances so that people find relief and added strength to solve their problems.

HOLLYWOOD (Fla.) SUN-TATTLER: How Much Taxes? Each of us in Florida, each man, woman, and child, paid $440 in taxes last year. At the present time the average family's largest single item of expense is taxes.

Significant is the tremendous increase in the amount paid to the federal government. This has doubled over the past 19 years.

In 1940 the federal government received about a third of the tax dollar. This year it received 61 per cent.

The state received 23 cents out of each dollar we pay in taxes, and the counties and cities combined only 16 cents.

In 1955 each person in Florida paid 27 cents out of each dollar he earned for taxes, whether it was in direct levies, such as the federal income tax, the state auto license tax, or the county and city property tax, or indirect, such as an excise and processing tax on many items of food and clothing.

To reduce this continually mounting tax bill we must soon decide how much government service we are willing to pay for, and adjust our demands to this level.

We must forget these erroneous ideas of "sock the rich" and "let the corporations pay" because it is we, the ultimate consumers, who pay all taxes in the form of higher prices.

Taxes are more and more of a burden. How much is necessary? You must decide.

Conversation May Be Main Trouble of Cocktail Parties

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody talks about how terrible the average cocktail party is, but nobody does anything about it—except maybe throw a worse one himself later.

It's reached a point where, when a host invites you to a cocktail party, you wonder whether it's because he really wants to see you, or merely is seeking revenge because you had him over to your last house party.

After attending some 3,000 of these social marathons—I have the same morbid interest in them that old women have in attending funerals—I believe I've figured out a way cocktail parties can not only be made endurable but enjoyable.

First, let us examine what is wrong with most cocktail parties. Connoisseurs of the napkin circuit agree that while the canapes may make a party indigestible, it is the conversation that actually makes it insufferable.

Many complain that the talk at cocktail parties sounds more like screaming than conversation. This is true. People start screaming because they are so bored with the person they are talking to they can't stand to hear him say another word.

That's the crux of the whole trouble. You rarely get to pick the people you talk to. It is a kind of verbal lottery, and the odds are against your getting a likely number, someone interested in the same things you are.

"I know you'll be enchanted with Miss Wambutt . . . She's so intellectual. . . and also with Mr. Frothingham. . . He's a real dear," says the hostess and gallops off fast.

Two hours later you know the

Stevenson's Ex-Wife Won't Publish Book, 'The Egghead and I'

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson, former wife of Adlai Stevenson, announced today that her proposed pamphlet, "The Egghead and I," will not be published, after all.

Mrs. Stevenson, who obtained a divorce from the Democratic presidential nominee in 1949 while he was governor of Illinois, said her work "did not concern or discuss the personal life of candidate Stevenson."

Her announcement that she had planned to publish a collection of "essays, satirical verse, and excerpts from my diaries concerning the 'egghead' in national affairs" evoked interest in political and social circles.

Mrs. Stevenson said that "circumstances beyond my control have prevented my pamphlet, 'The Egghead and I,' from reaching the printers in time for publication and timely national distribution prior to Nov. 6 (Election day)."

"I have, therefore, decided to cancel its publication."

Wonderful open sandwich: spread fine-quality liverwurst over a slice of pumpernickel bread and top with crisply-cooked hot bacon. Serve with another slice of buttered bread spread with tomato slices and marinated onion rings.

Scholars believe the history of bells in the Western world began about 400 A.D.

deadly reason. Miss Wambutt, who wears Clara Bow bangs, is hipped on reincarnation and is sure she remembers you from a previous life in Nineveh—or was it Tyre? when she was a princess and you were her pre-Christian slave. Mr. Frothingham, a distinguished codger with a silver mustache, has only two words—"Uh" and "uh-uh." His main interest in life is in dipping his mustache into a martini and then squeezing it dry with his lower lip.

How can we avoid these situations? By taking a tip from business conventions, at which delegates wear identity tags bearing their names and business firms.

Here is my idea. Every cocktail party guest should be made to wear, not merely an identity tag, but a printed biography card listing his interests and prejudices—in large clear type.

For example, a card like this: "My name is Elbert Sticher. I manufacture ladies' undergarments. Yes, I find it interesting. "My income is upward of $20,000 a year.

"I have a wife and three children—all grown. If you don't show me pictures of your family, I won't show you mine.

"I am an intermittent Presbyterian and a registered Democrat. Yes, I know I should probably vote Republican, but my father told me with his dying breath that if I ever did he would roll over in his grave.

"Subjects I don't want to talk about: Politics, religion, flying saucers, the opera, interplanetary flights, the possibility of life on Mars, and John Foster Dulles.

"Subjects I do like to talk about: Sex—if you're a girl under 40, golf—if you know a sure way to shoot under 100, any new income tax deductions you've heard of, the unreasonable demands of labor, and why the government will do anything for the farmer but nothing for the small businessman.

"My pet peeves are: Jazz record collectors, suburbanites, do-it-yourself fans, mothers who tell the cute sayings of their children, Brooklyn Dodger rooters, and people who think it's funny to ask me, 'what's new in brassieres these days besides foam rubber?'"

"Special warning: No matter how many martinis I DRINK, I never lend money to strangers at a party, so save your breath.

"Special request: If you know any atom bomb secrets, don't tell me. I talk in my sleep."

Let everyone wear biography cards like that and no cocktail party could be dull. If Mr. Sticher didn't appeal to you, all you would have to do is move on, murmuring, "sorry, I'm afraid I'm one of your pet peeves."

And Mr. Sticher would be as grateful to see you walk off as you'd be to leave him. No hurt feelings, no little white lies.

No one would have an excuse for getting stuck in a boring conversation unless he simply could not read. And whatever else you say about cocktail parties, you have to admit most of the people who go to them can read.

Well, until the third martini, anyway.

Care of cutting, digging and chopping tools includes yearly sharpening and handle treatment, as shown above. Repair of leak in garden hose is pictured at lower left.

Cleanup of Garden Tools Pays When Spring Returns

By MR. FIX

It's common practice to put yard and garden implements away at the summer's end with a lick and a promise to "clean them up later," on some rainy day. The promise is almost always forgotten.

By the next spring, rust and corrosion have gotten in a few licks of their own. And while the damage may seem light, two or three seasons of neglect take a heavy toll. Parts and whole tools can be replaced but the expense is needless, considering that it takes only a few minutes to put garden tools in shape for winter storage.

If you don't want your lawn mower to get old before its time, give it a thorough going-over with steel wool and a wire brush, if necessary, to remove tangled grass and loose clippings. These moisture traps let rust take hold quickly.

Look for oil holes around the body of the mower and shoot a few drops of oil into each one. Remove the wheels and apply grease to the gears and oil the bearings. Go over the whole mower with an oily rag, paying particular attention to cutting edges of the blades. Tighten all bolts and screws.

A good hose is a worthwhile investment and well worth taking care of. Uncouple the hose and drain the water out of each section, then lay it out straight on a sunny slope to dry. Check the coupling washers and replace any worn ones. Clean the couplings.

The next order of hose maintenance is the repair of leaks, if any. Specially-designed hose splicers may be needed to get rid of a bad leak, but small ones can be patched with liquid rubber, or rubber cement. Wrap rubber tape over the repair, and coat this, in turn, with liquid rubber.

When dry, the hose can be rolled up and stored in an old tire casing, a bushel basket, or a hose reel.

Hose nozzles need special attention, too. Take them apart and clean each piece with fine steel wool until the metal shines. Coat the parts with oil and reassemble. Moving sprinklers should be accorded the same treatment. In addition, apply waterproof grease to internal bushings and bearings.

Hand tools should require a minimum of prewinter care if treated properly during the busy season. Tools such as shovels, rakes, hoes, pruners and shears should always be wiped clean after each use.

If that ritual hasn't been faithfully observed, fall cleanup of hand garden tools is a bit of a chore. It may involve scraping and heavy wirebrushing to remove built-up layers of dirt and oil. The rust almost certainly to be found under this grimy crust may or may not bow to liquid rust remover.

Sharpen cutting edges with file or grindstone, stroking toward the edge and following the original bevel. Loosen tension on springs, if possible, then coat all metal parts with an oily film.

Wooden handles should be smoothed with sandpaper and treated to several brushed-on coatings of linseed oil.

You'll treat yourself to a pat on the back, come spring.

Are Twins Two People, Pair Halves?

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

A twin is an individual, he is not just the other half of a pair. Like any child we want a twin to grow up to be an independent self-reliant person. In adult life a twin is likely to be separated from his mate, as any child is separated from his brothers and sisters. And while a close warm relationship between all members of a family is good during childhood, we need to be careful that twins do not become so overly dependent upon each other that neither feels himself to be a complete person alone.

Some twins, and especially identical twins, do develop an unusually close relationship between themselves. This may be due, as some people claim, to the fact that they shared the same womb before birth. But, it is also true that the way they are treated after birth probably has a lot to do with it, too.

I know one pair of twins who, as infants, howled when put into their separate cribs, but when allowed to get in together, they curled around each other like a pair of kittens and slept peacefully. As these boys grew older neither would sit at the table to eat a meal unless the other one was there too. They were called Jim and Tim and they were alike as two peas. They were dressed exactly alike and neither had a single possession that the other didn't have an exact duplicate. Neither had an interest that the other didn't share.

One day when the boys were about five they were playing in their back yard when Jim fell off the jungle gym and broke his leg. It was a nasty break and the leg had to be put up in traction. That meant Jim had to be in the hospital for many weeks. Poor Tim, he was a little lost soul. For days he couldn't play. Life had just lost its zest for him; he didn't eat, he just sat around and moped. Jim, too, in the hospital, was another little lost soul. The hospital finally gave in and broke its rules about not permitting children to visit. Both boys were losing weight. When they had their meals together across Tim's bed they ate with their old enthusiasm.

The best thing that ever happened to these boys was Jim's accident. It brought home to their parents, as nothing else could have done, that they didn't have two sons, they had two halves of a pair.

As soon as Jim was well again the parents began a steady campaign of treating those boys as individuals. New clothes, new toys were no longer identical. Dad took Jim to the zoo on Saturday morning while Mother took Tim to the airport. Slowly and little by little they weaned the boys away from each other. When it came time for first grade they were put in different classes. They still played together but each formed friendships with classmates. Parents and teachers both encouraged them to have separate interests. Each is now well on his way to being a whole boy and not a half.

Wintry Weather Hits Part of Northwest; Four Inch Snow Falls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather hit sections of the Northwest today, with snow and freezing temperatures. The storm moved northeastward through the Central Plateau region and central Rockies, dumping up to 4 inches of snow at Rock Springs, Wyo. Snow flurries continued during the night and early morning in sections of Idaho and western Montana.

The cold air which invaded the Western states sent temperatures tumbling more than 30 degrees in some areas compared to 24 hours earlier.

Considerable blowing dust was reported in the Central Plains, with wind gusts of more than 50 m.p.h. at some places. The strong winds were expected to continue during the day in most of the area.

TOM SAWYER'S FENCE HANNIBAL

Adventures and scenes so vividly told by Mark Twain that they seem part of every Missourian's own youthful memories, live again in the famous author's boyhood home.

In Hannibal, "the little white town drowsing in the sunlight of a summer's morning," one's path crosses those of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn constantly. The Mark Twain Museum with white-washed fence at its side, the "Cardiff Hill" lighthouse and the Statue of Tom and Huck are landmarks.

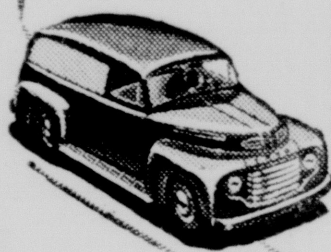

Hannibal today is an important industrial city and a vital railroad center.

Nixon Opens 2-Day Trip In Illinois

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON, in Illinois (AP) — Vice President Nixon opens two days of intensive campaigning in Illinois today seeking to nail down a state where Republicans are worried about effects of a scandal in the state administration.

The vice president whistle-stops clear across the state from south to north today, then leaves his train for a well-filled day in the Chicago area tomorrow.

He is understood to feel that the widely publicized embezzlement case involving former Republican State Auditor Orville E. Hodge has made uncertain otherwise rosy prospects for the GOP in the home state of Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson.

Hodge was the Republican nominee to succeed himself as auditor until the state check scandal broke in July. He now is serving federal and state prison terms after pleading guilty to charges growing out of misuse of about 1½ million dollars in state funds.

The vice president gave a clue yesterday at Kalamazoo, Mich., to how he will handle this issue. A heckler displayed a sign calling attention to the Hodge case. The vice president took no direct notice of this but commented that "in any administration as big as this one at either the state or national level you'll find persons guilty of violation of the public trust."

"But when we find dishonesty, we clean it up rather than cover it up."

At South Bend, Ind., last night the vice president made a hard-hitting attack on Stevenson on the issue of ending H-bomb tests.

Wofford Horse Wins Olympic Jumping

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Only one horse cleared all the barriers in the difficult Olympic jumping course at the American Royal Horse Show last night.

The horse was Hollandia, a chestnut gelding owned by Mrs. John Wofford, Junction City, Kan. Hollandia competed in the 1952 Olympics. His rider last night was Warren Wofford of Junction City, a member of the 1956 Olympic team.

The $1,000 five-gaited mare stake was won by Twilight Walk, owned by Mrs. Jean McLean Davis, Portsmouth, Va. Mrs. Davis also rode another horse, Sashay, to victory in the three-gaited ladies stake.

Stonewall's Princess, owned by the Sunnyslope Farms, Scott City, Kan., placed first in the Missouri-Kansas five-gaited championship again. The chestnut mare also won the event on Sunday night's program.

A memorial carillon for the late Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio will be built on the Capitol grounds in Washington, D.C.

Adlai Attacks GOP Priority For 'Giants'

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today the Eisenhower administration has "confused genuine friendship for business with smuggling intimacy toward a few of its giants."

"We Democrats . . . reject the idea of an America in which everyone is on the payroll of a few giant corporations," he declared in a speech prepared for a luncheon of businessmen supporters.

The Democratic presidential nominee contended, at the start of 12-hour schedule of rallies in the city and surrounding counties, that because of Republican policies small business is being "squeezed by the growing giants, buffeted by the merger movement, strangled by high interest rates."

Stevenson's shift to discussion of Republican economic actions came after a whip-cracking assault on President Eisenhower's foreign policies, and on Secretary of State Dulles and Vice President Nixon, before a cheering throng in Madison Square Garden last night.

The partisan, banner-waving crowd filled all seats affording a view of the speaker. Democratic leaders said 18,000 were on hand. Several hundred seats, blocked off by platform installations, remained empty. None were turned away as in 1952 when Stevenson spoke in the Garden.

The crowd alternately cheered sallies against Eisenhower and boomed mention of Dulles and Nixon.

Stevenson himself had drawn some scattered boos among the cheers from a small crowd of bystanders as he left his hotel to drive to the Garden. But the audience in the hall gave him one of the biggest welcomes of his campaign.

Actor's Wife Takes Action on Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of actor Keefe Brasselle says he told her he was going to Europe to seek work — and that if she thinks she can collect on a court order against him, try it.

In superior court Mrs. Norma Brasselle, 29, tried. The court appointed a receiver to take over Brasselle's assets among which his wife's attorney listed as half of the $100,000 equity in a Beverly Hills office building.

Mrs. Brasselle's attorney said Brasselle is $1,175 in arrears in alimony and child support and owes $1,000 in attorney's fees.

Mrs. Brasselle obtained an interlocutory divorce decree last March 29 but Brasselle had it set aside. A contested divorce suit is pending.

High School Students Take First Tests For 4-Year Grants

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Some 160,000 of the nation's high school seniors today take the first battery of tests in competition for more than three million dollars in scholarships.

The students, from 12,700 high schools, will compete for four-year grants awarded by the National Merit Scholarship Corp. The 7,500 with the best grades in the examinations will enter the merit program finals and further tests.

Grand Jury Asks Perjury Investigation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The grand jury recommended a perjury investigation early today after refusing to indict four men charged with beating fellow union members of the bakers' union.

Jury foreman Fred Parr Cox read a statement saying, "It is apparent this is a case of simple assault, which is a misdemeanor and not a felony and accordingly does not come within the jurisdiction of the grand jury."

"The case is rampant with perjury and we recommend that the district attorney's office pursue the matter further."

Joseph G. Kane, 42, of Local 325 on Long Island, N.Y., told police that he and others were roughed up by a group headed by James G. Cross, 44, president of the International Union of Bakery and Confectionery Workers.

Kane is opposing Cross for the presidency at the union convention which opens today. Kane said Cross led the attacks in three San Francisco hotels while trying to stop opposition to his continued presidency.

Cross denied the charges and said the case was a "frameup." Those accusing Cross beside Kane are Louis Genuth, 45, secretary of New York Local 50; Nathan Ehrlich, 58, manager of New York Local 51; Ehrlich's wife Lillian, 54; Harry Lorber, 42, secretary of Local 51; and Lorber's wife, Beatrice, 36.

Cross and George Stuart, 47, Washington, D. C.; Frank Gardone, 31, Pittsburgh; and Frank Mykalo, 35, Scranton, Pa., were arrested Sunday for investigation of kidnapping and assault.

They were released on $5,000 bail each.

A Bachelor Can Give Women Good Tips on Housekeeping

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If the housewife wants some good tips in home management, she ought to consult a widower, says designer, Russel Wright.

Why? "Because most men who are used to looking for efficiency in an office are more likely to be aware of applying time-savers and short cuts to their home planning."

Women do not like to hear that, says Wright "but the truth is that many women show a reluctance to take advantage of time and work savers. Unless they work as hard as their mothers and grandmothers did, they feel they are not doing a good job."

What are the shortcuts that Wright, a good housekeeper himself, might recommend? Time savers are his special forte. They look like little things but add up to precious minutes and energy saved. These include:

1. Set an "easy table." Skip linens, bread and butter plates, use no more than three pieces of silver per person. Use dishes that may come right from the oven and refrigerator to the table. Colored pottery or glass available in ware of attractive shapes may be used for this purpose.
2. A lazy Susan set right in the middle of the table may be used for holding all the serving dishes.
3. Be foresighted. Wrap up your good china in transparent plastic wrap for storage between use. It'll keep delicate plates dust free, so they won't have to be rewashed before a company dinner, and also helps prevent chipping. Wright does this with glasses and other company pieces.
4. Have a two or three-tiered serving table handy at the table so courses may be cleared easily without making too many trips to the kitchen.

5. Use table covers and napkins of a material that needs no ironing and paper napkins whenever possible.

6. If you have a dishwasher, rinse dinner dishes immediately, put them in the dishwasher and turn it on when you have a load.

If you haven't a dishwasher, put your dishes right into a pan or sink of soapy water.

7. No time for a centerpiece of flowers? Use your pretty salad bowl or a handsome large soup tureen in the middle of the table.

We could go on from there—keep paper towels, aluminum foil and transparent household plastic wrap on handy rollers for easy use. Take advantage of those short-cut appliances, food choppers, coffee makers, blenders. Use electric timer controls if they are part of your kitchen equipment.

You can get better service out of oven and refrigerator by keeping them clean and in good repair. Put foil under electric burners to cut down that cleaning chore. Discard excess items such as jars, coffee cans, paper bags, saving only the number required at the moment. Use the extra space for a more efficient storage closet. Prepare dinners that do not require too much preparation but may be prepared in advance.

Venezuela was the first part of the mainland of the New World which Christopher Columbus discovered.

Los Angeles Shows Population Increase

Dobie Squeezed Out— Mighty Atlas Displays His Power Nelson

Maurice Shapiro, the "Mighty Atlas," Hollywood, Calif., and Gentleman Jim Dobie, Independence, Mo., went to a draw when Dobie was able to return to the ring for the last fall. Dobie had won the first fall and Shapiro the second.

Shapiro using a full nelson on Dobie in the second fall, his knuckles became swollen and he was unable to break his own hold. The pressure stopped the circulation in Dobie's head and he was made unconscious. After the match Shapiro's hands were examined and the knuckles on his right hand were still swollen, from the pressure he was putting into his hands in using the hold.

Dobie won the first fall after using a series of bulldog headlock which Dobie says is the "Missouri Bulldozer" and press in 12 minutes and 25 seconds. The time of the second fall when the referee, Frank Altman, stopped the match, was 11 minutes and 35 seconds.

The crowd was disappointed the third fall could not be held, but had they seen Dobie in the dressing room, and Shapiro's hands, it could well be understood.

Pee Wee James and the Brown Panther took the midsets match after an exciting time in the ring with the team of Tiny Roe and Tom Thumb.

The first fall went to Roe and Thumb after Roe had succeeded in beating the Brown Panther in 13 minutes and 25 seconds.

In the next two periods after the Panther and James had met their opponents with everything and the Panther outwitted the opponents, James came in to put the finishing touches on to win. The heady little James used a Boston Crab and then a series of body slams to win both falls, the second fall of the match in 10 minutes and the last fall of the event in six minutes and 35 seconds.

In the opening event between Woodrow "Woody" Strode and Jim Siksay, a rough and tumble event, Strode succeeded in beating Siksay using a series of flying scissors and a press. It took 13 minutes and 16 seconds for the fall.

Picks Sooners Over Irish For Saturday

NEW YORK (A)—One can get poor in a hurry picking against Notre Dame's football team but there is every indication that it can be done this time without injury.

The Irish sophomores, who could jell at any moment, now have a record of one triumph in four games. Oklahoma, erstwhile No. 1 in the nation, hasn't been defeated since Notre Dame did it in the 1953 season opener.

Other picks on this week's schedule (last week's record 38-10 for .792. Season's figures: 172-49-.778):

Michigan State over Illinois: A spot for an upset if Michigan State has let down too far after its victory over Notre Dame last Saturday.

Georgia Tech over Tulane: Very quietly, Tulane has built a strong record in the Deep South but this time it collides with Wade Mitchell, Toppy Vann and all those other speedy Engineers.

Tennessee over Maryland: Too many Marylanders on the injured list.

Michigan over Minnesota: Neither team too strong on defense but Michigan has Ron Kramer.

Southern California over Stanford: This is Jon Arnett's farewell as a Trojan—and Stanford will be glad he's among the alumni after this.

Baylor over Texas A&M: The Aggies gave their all last Saturday while Baylor rested. Home field means the difference.

Texas Christian over Miami: Jim Swink can't be held in check on successive Saturdays.

Pittsburgh over Oregon: Oregon has scored only two touchdowns in its last three games.

Clemson over South Carolina: This is the annual State Fair game on Thursday.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:
FRIDAY

Denver over New Mexico.
George Washington over William & Mary, Kansas over Oklahoma A&M.

SATURDAY
EAST: Syracuse over Boston University, Brown over Rhode Island, Army over Columbia, Princeton over Cornell, Dartmouth over Harvard, Navy over Penn. Florida State over Villanova, West Virginia over Penn State, Yale over Colgate.

SOUTH: Mississippi State over Alabama, Houston over Auburn, Davidson over VMI, Duke over North Carolina State, The Citadel over Furman, Kentucky over Georgia, Florida over Louisiana State, North Carolina over Wake Forest, Vanderbilt over Middle Tennessee, Virginia Tech over Virginia, Mississippi over Arkansas, Clemson over South Carolina.

Follows Ultimatum—

Colorado 'Beast' Runs Again After 2-Year Fade

BOULDER, Colo. (A)—"The Beast is running again and that's bad news for the other teams."

That's the report in the words of John (The Beast) Bayuk, 210-pound fullback whose husky shoulders are carrying Colorado's football team on an amazing comeback after being humbled, 35-0, by Oregon in its season opener.

Bayuk, the Big Seven Conference leading rusher as a sophomore two years ago then faded in 1955 to fifth place, is back in front of the Big Seven this season following an ultimatum from Coach Dal Ward.

After the Oregon game, Ward told the bruising speedster: "I'll give you one more chance. If we receive I'll let you start against Kansas State. But if you don't block somebody on that first play you're off the traveling squad—no more trips."

Fellow players tell how Bayuk on that first play took dead aim on K-State fullback Bob Carrington, a 212 pounder, and knocked him 10 feet with a bone-rattling block. Carrington did little the rest of the game—won by Colorado 34-0—and was unable to play the next week against Oklahoma.

Ward named Bayuk co-captain of the K-State game in an effort to build the senior into a team leader. "He responded like I knew he would," Ward said. Since then Bayuk has been co-captain of every game and he's led the Buffaloes to victory each time. The scores were 34-0 over K-State, 26-25 over Kansas, 47-7 against Colorado A&M and 52-0 over Iowa State.

Bayuk reached his peak last Saturday against Iowa State, a strong defensive team as shown by its

This may get me picketed by the Screen Children's Guild, but I must confess it's true. In uncounted years of interviewing, I have had reasonable success with adults.

PIN-WORMS
MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... only parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

JAYNE'S P-W
for Pin-Worms

I've had fair results with animals, too difficult. I speak English, French and German fluently. I speak Spanish rather well, but with some grammatical errors, and my Italian is fairly good."

All this from a lad of 10! His mother, a lovely brunette who once studied dramatics at the Reinhardt School in Vienna, explained that her husband travels a great deal in Europe and America. Michel picks up the language wherever he goes.

Michel is an athletic lad with a handsome face and a large shock of light brown hair that has once again been dyed black for his film role. He now ambitions to be an actor when he grows up. But if that doesn't work out, he'd like to run a restaurant. Yep, he cooks, too.

Michel is now being hailed as the brightest young find in years because of his role as the Mexican boy in "The Brave One." That part won him co-starring status as a half-breed lad in "The Tin Star" with Henry Fonda, Betty Palmer and Anthony Perkins.

He could not only talk, but spoke with a slight British accent. He was born near London, the only son of a leather merchant, Henry Popper, and his wife.

"I'm taking lessons so I'll be able to talk Western in the picture," Michel explained. "It's not too difficult."

Former Sedalia Man Named Vice-President Of New York Firm

William F. Brooks, well-known former Sedalian, who for several years has been associated with the public relations firm of Milburn McCarty Associates, New York City, has been made vice-president of that business.

Brooks started his career in the news department of The Sedalia Capital. After graduating from Missouri University he worked on the Kansas City Star, was with the Associated Press in this country and abroad. In the late 40's he was with the National Broadcasting Co. as vice-president with headquarters in the RCA Building, New York. Subsequently, he went into the public relations field and with Milburn McCarty Associates.

Brooks' career has also embraced magazine editing and book authorship.

CLAIMS THE HEART OF TEXAS—Genovevo Rodriguez y Hinojosa, 48, of Detroit, Mich., displays some of the documents which will, he says, prove his claim to 750,000 acres of southern Texas. Hinojosa bases his claim on a Spanish land grant to his great-grandfather more than 125 years ago and on an American land patent to the area issued in 1888. Within the claimed territory are the city of Corpus Christi and some 20 other communities. Riggers Local 575 of Detroit, Mich., is so impressed by American-born Hinojosa's claim that it is setting up a fund to finance the long court fight ahead.

The Flordonia Homemakers Extension Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Downing near LaMonte Friday night, Oct. 19, with a contributive supper served to eight members and their families.

Mrs. Roy Hume, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Joel Downing gave the devotional and Mrs. Nathan Shaw gave a book review.

Plans were made to meet with Mrs. Hume to tack a comfort which was pieced by club members. The club is presenting a gift to Mrs. John Holdner who will make her home in Texas.

A letter of thanks was read by Mrs. Shaw from Mercy Hospital. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Emma Bruce, Nov. 16, seven p.m.

Variety Shows
On Television
Show Increase

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK — In this present week the three major television networks are offering 10 hours of evening "variety" programs.

These hours do not include the activities of Today, Home, Tonight, the Garry Moore and Arthur Godfrey daytime festivities, and countless other programs presenting a variety of guests. They do include the nighttime shows of Ed Sullivan, Steve Allen, Walter Winchell, Perry Como, Jackie Gleason, Arthur Godfrey, etc.

What is a "variety" program anyway? Obviously it's a variety of entertainment—a little music, a little dance, a little talk. It's a series of beads strung together by one person, the master of ceremonies.

TV shows have reached a new high in numbers, and parts of them are constantly flying off to help form the whole of still other variety shows. Thus if you miss Gisele MacKenzie on one show she'll shortly appear on another. Multiply her by dozens of other entertainers and by a process of geometric progression you have the age of fission in variety shows.

Even the hardy neutrons themselves, the masters of ceremonies fly off to other variety programs. Ten hours of variety in a week dulls the senses. Try as you will to shake off weariness of spirit and dullness of perception from this surfeit, it becomes increasingly difficult to pick the better from the good in these variety shows.

Thus we come to an 11th variety hour in this current week—Washington Square, starring Ray Bolger, which bowed in Sunday afternoon on NBC-TV and will reappear every other Sunday.

Ray Bolger is one of the finest dancers and most winsome personalities in show business. That such a superior performer could have had such an unhappy history in TV almost makes the medium seem at fault.

Washington Square still is not

Nixon Adds Own Joke to Match His Opponent

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON, in Illinois (P)—Vice President Nixon has added an Elvis Presley joke to his repertoire to match his adversary, Sen. Estes Kefauver, in this respect.

Kefauver has been telling audiences all over the country that Republican orators this fall are making promises which remind him of a record by the Memphis rock 'n' roll singer.

"The title of that record is, 'I Want You, I Need You, I Love You,'" says the Tennesseean. "But after the election is over, the Republicans will put on another record by Elvis. 'You're Nothing 'Cept an Ole Hound Dog.'"

At Niles, Mich., yesterday, Nixon unveiled his own Presley joke after a small boy asked him for an autograph.

"You know," the vice president told the crowd, "that reminds me that the other day a boy asked for my autograph and said he wanted me to sign my name twice."

"Do you want to give the second one to your brother or sister?" I asked him.

"Naw," he said, "it takes two of yours to get one of Elvis Presley."

"But," Nixon went on, "that shows our campaign is really rolling. A couple of weeks ago, it took four of mine for one of Presley."

Acts as Production Gauge—

Two NCO's at Whiteman AFB Publish Monthly Analysis

Unknown to the majority of 340th Bomb Wing personnel at Whiteman Air Force Base, Missouri, a very small section that is doing a big and important job is the production analysis section of the maintenance division of wing material. This unit is composed of two NCO's T/Sgt. P. A. Dunlevy and S/Sgt. H. H. Allen. Both are recent graduates of the Maintenance Engineering Production Analysis School at Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois. Sgt. Allen lives on State Fair Blvd. in Sedalia.

Since April of this year the section has been publishing monthly a Maintenance analysis summary which enables the shop supervisors and engineering officers to see how their unit stacks up against the other 340th units and against Strategic Air Command and Eighth Air Force standards in such areas as manpower utilization, man-hours per inspection, flying time accomplished, and other major fields of interest to maintenance supervisors.

In June of this year, the production analysis section began publishing the capability expressed in sorties that can be supported by each of the individual shops in the maintenance division as part of the monthly maintenance order. This capability forecast enables each shop chief to see if his shop is up to par. It points out the areas of weakness and serves as a guide for each shop to use in increasing its effectiveness to the level required by the commitments placed upon the wing. This foolproof system has given the 340th one of the highest aircraft reliability rates in the Eighth Air Force and Strategic Air Command.

During August the Production Analysis Section set up a visible file which shows at a glance each malfunction that occurs on any flight made by tactical aircraft. This file is of paramount importance in pin-pointing areas of recurring malfunctions and insuring that the proper units are made aware of these dangerous symptoms so that corrective action can be taken to prevent the loss of training or the possibility of a costly accident in the future.

Twice monthly a wing aircraft malfunction summary is published from the information in this file which shows the malfunctions that have occurred by aircraft serial numbers and major system. This summary is distributed to all interested wing agencies.

Within the next week or so the production analysis section will have ready for publication a 1500-page volume of time standards for virtually all known maintenance tasks to be used by all personnel in the maintenance field for work planning. Daily use of this "Maintenance Bible" will result in better utilization of personnel, more effective work, and if followed carefully by all supervisors, should reduce the need for overtime to a minimum.

Future plans of the production analysis section include the undertaking of statistical correlations to show relationships, such as how the length of time spent on inspections affect the success of the following missions, or, how relative humidity may affect the number of fuel leaks occurring on our aircraft.

It's a small section, but its potential for helping the 340th stay on top for good is tremendous.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said last night the United States could "suffer a serious military disadvantage" if it stopped its tests of nuclear weapons and then found that Russia was continuing hers.

Without naming his Democratic opponent Adlai E. Stevenson, Eisenhower said that one of Stevenson's contentions in the campaign debate over continued bomb testing "is based upon apparent unawareness of the facts."

Eisenhower issued his second formal reply to Stevenson's repeated calls for this nation to take the lead in working toward an end to hydrogen bomb testing.

While rejecting Stevenson's arguments, the President said he remains "profoundly hopeful" that a properly safeguarded system of world disarmament will come to pass. But until that comes, he declared:

"We must continue . . . to develop our strength in the most advanced weapons — for the sake of our own national safety, for the sake of all free nations, for the sake of peace itself . . ."

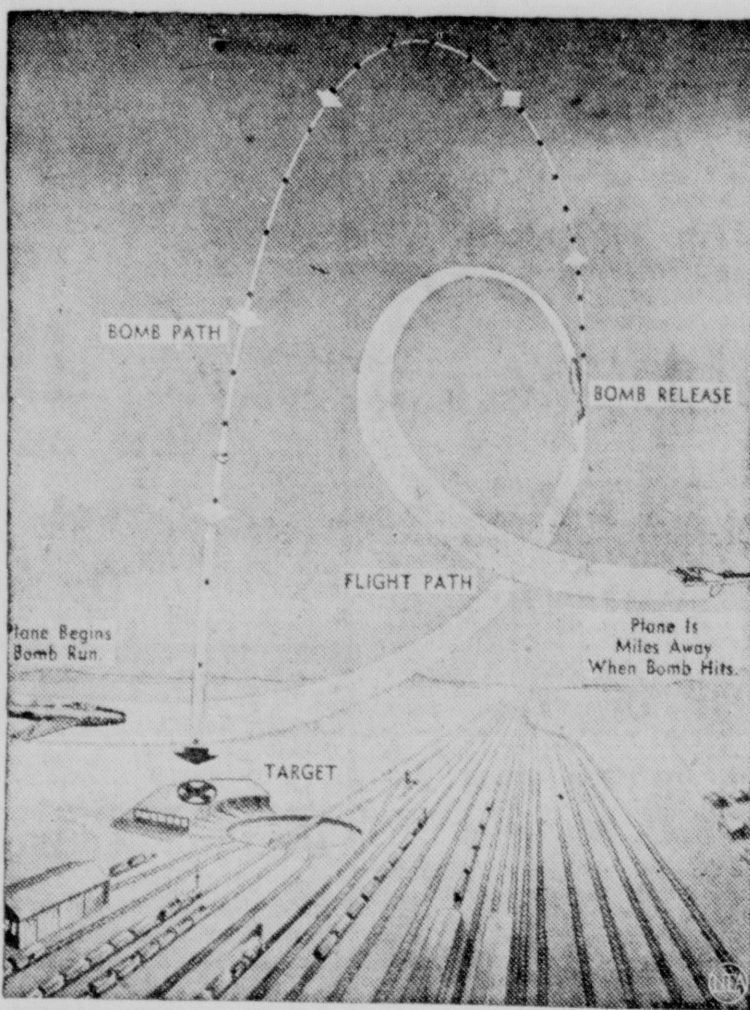

"There is nothing in postwar history to justify the belief that we should — or even that we could dare — accept anything less than sound safeguards and controls for any disarmament arrangements."

On another point raised by Democratic campaigners, Eisenhower said big business has lost, rather than gained, under his administration.

In a speech last night at the 75th anniversary banquet of the carpenters union, Eisenhower said if his administration were guilty of favoring big business, as charged, "I am sure big business would assert we have failed miserably."

"I give you two interesting facts," he said. "During the years 1946 to 1952, inclusive, corporate profits — after taxes — averaged 7.7 per cent of the national income. During the period since 1953 when this administration entered office, corporate profits — after taxes — have averaged 6.0 per cent of the national income."

"While this has been going on, labor's share of the national income has risen progressively. It is now 70 per cent, the highest in the last 20 years."

ATOM-AGE MUMBLEDEY-PEG — Diagramed above is a previously secret "over-the-shoulder" method of low altitude pinpoint bombing employed by the Air Force. It was demonstrated by the USAF World Wide Weapons Meet at Las Vegas, Nev., with Republic F-84 Thunderstreaks. Plane, at left, flashes across the target—a railroad marshalling yard, pulls up in a loop and, still climbing, tosses bomb at target which is now behind the plane. Bomber completes loop and streaks miles away at near-sonic speed as bomb completes its predicted arc and falls on target. This "foss" method of bombing also can be used to toss bomb either straight up or forward of plane.

Lapp, Nobel laureate Linus Pauling and Dr. David Hill to back up his contention, and added: "This 'clean bomb' nonsense reminds me of the story of the crazy assassin who tried to reassure each victim just before shooting him that he need have no fear of infection, for each bullet had been washed in good soap and water."

American industry consumed an estimated 5,450 long tons of tin in April for the largest total since January of 1951.
